

Mission Statement of IVS Pension Actuaries

Experts at the Institute of Pension Actuaries make a significant contribution to ensuring that pension benefits within occupational, professional, or similar collective schemes are provided securely through their professional assessments. In doing so, we play a crucial role in securing society's future well-being.

At the Institute of Pension Actuaries, we are primarily committed to a sustainable, adequate, and reliable pension system. As experts, we assume this responsibility not only through our professional work but also by actively and constructively engaging in political discourse.

The Institute of Pension Actuaries actively contributes to the development of appropriate regulatory frameworks and professional standards. We see ourselves as co-creators of the pension landscape, leveraging our expertise at both national and international levels to ensure a modern and needs-based pension system.

Experts at the Institute of Pension Actuaries combine actuarial expertise with in-depth professional knowledge and strong communication skills. Our goal is to make complex issues comprehensible and to provide a solid foundation for well-informed decision-making. The independence of our assessments is of great importance to us.

Experts at the Institute of Pension Actuaries are certified professionals who, through extensive training and adherence to the highest quality standards, ensure the integrity and reliability of their actuarial assessments in the field of retirement benefits.
